ELLINGLES INVOLVES "TOM" TAGGART IN SENSATIONAL STORY CHARGING PLAN TO PROCURE HER AS "WHITE SLAVE"

FAMOUS MAN NOW DRAGGED IN CASE

Former Chairman of Democratic National Committee Has Name Mentioned in Girl's Story

JUDGE OPENS DOOR WIDE

Declares He Will Let in the Light on this Most Startling Episode in Chicago's Court Annals

CHICAGO, July 6.—A tremendous sensation was created during the morning session of the trial of Ella Gingles on charge of stealing lace, when the name of Tom Taggart of French Lick Springs, Ind., was used by Miss Gingles in connection with the case.

It was mentioned while the girl, under a severe cross examination by Assistant State's Attorney Ben Short was repeating the story she told, on the stand Saturday when she alleged that Miss Agnes Barrette, the prosecuting witness, and Mrs. Cecelia Kenyon had attempted to induce her to become a "white slave."

The cross examination of the girl was merciless and Short asked her about the most minute details of the scene she alleged was enacted in Miss Barrette's room on the night of Jan. 4 last. After she had declared that her clothing was torn from her back by Miss Barrette and Mrs. Kenyon and that she struggled with the women to escape, Short asked if any names were mentioned by the woman while this was going on.

Names Tom Taggart "Yes," the girl replied. "What name?" "Tom Taggart."

"What name did you say?" "Tom Taggart."

"Wasn't it suggested to you after that incident that you should use that name?" "No, sir. I remember that name was used."

"What was said about Tom Taggart?" "They said I was to go to his place at French Lick Springs, Ind."

Miss Gingles then described again the revolting details of the scene she alleged took place in Miss Barrette's room. She did not change her testimony of last Saturday.

Assistant State's Attorney Short then attempted to show that Miss Gingles had imagined all of the things she described but the witness denied it. By a long process of questioning Short then drew from the girl the story of what she alleged happened in the Wellington hotel on the night of February 16 last, the night before she was bound and gagged in a bathroom of the hotel. Her story in substance was that on that night the scene of January 4 was repeated and that she was held a prisoner in a room by a mysterious man. She declared that she was afraid to go to a telephone for fear the man would kill her.

(A TRIBUTE AND A PLEA.)

La Crosse is a most beautiful city. I know of none more beautiful in America. This morning, to get a good view of the city, I climbed Grand Dad's bluff and gazed out upon the magnificent panorama of the valley below. It seemed to me that the Creator had crowded the scene with opulent and radiant splendor. As the mists slowly lifted and fled before the sun's dazzling rays the vision unfolded in kaleidoscopic grandeur. On either side of Grand Dad's rugged sides rose his brother bluffs which, like their companion hills across the valley, seemed silent sentinels guarding the valley and the city. Yonder under the distant bluffs flowed the Father of Waters thrusting his silver sheen through the dark green valley and then disappearing in the dim distance. To north and south gleamed the beautiful fields of green and gold. And here at the foot of the grand old bluff lay the beautiful city. As I gazed at the whole vision of the valley I was awed by the bewildering beauty of the majestic scene and exclaimed, "What hath God wrought!" Surely Nature is divine and the prophets might well speak of "the everlasting hills from whence cometh our salvation."

As I beheld the beautiful vision of the hills and valley it seemed like some majestic Parthenon of divine beauty—the sky above arching a golden vaulted dome, the hills on either side rising in majestic marble pillars, the valley with city and stream below forming a magnificent mosaic floor.

Probably all who live in La Crosse do not realize or appreciate the

HURLS COAL INTO PRESIDENT'S TRAIN

Unknown Person Creates Sensation by Shattering Glass in Coach Next the Mayflower

NEW YORK, July 6.—A chunk of anthracite coal weighing three or four pounds was hurled at President Taft's special train just after it left New London last night for New York. The missile crashed through a window in the coach next to the president's private car, Mayflower, and smashed the glass to small pieces with sufficient force to have seriously injured or even killed any person it happened to strike. Although no one was struck, the secret service men with the president are investigating and word has been sent to New London for the arrest of anyone whose actions last night were suspicious. None of the president's party knew of the accident. Their nerves were considerably shattered this morning when they learned of what was possibly an attempt to injure the president.

It is thought that the unknown assailant was waiting for the train to which the Mayflower was attached and either did not know which was the Mayflower or misjudged the speed of the train in the darkness. All the windows in the Mayflower were closed at the time and the windows of the next car made a good target against the blackness of the night. The president and his party left the grand central station here for Fort Ticonderoga at 7:45 this morning. The Mayflower being attached to the rear of the regular train.

BISHOP SCHWEBACH DANGEROUSLY ILL

La Crosse Prelate in Critical Condition at Alexian Hospital, in Chicago

PHYSICIANS FEAR FOR LIFE

Prominent Dignitary Is Hurried to Hospital and Officials Fear Worst

CHICAGO, Ill., July 6.—(Special.)—The serious condition of Rt. Rev. James Schwebach, bishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of La Crosse, which compelled his being hurried to the Alexian Brothers' hospital in this city for treatment, is causing anxiety to laymen and clergy of this diocese. The venerable prelate who is one of the best known bishops of the northwest, is suffering from a complication of abdominal disorders, which physicians fear may prove fatal. A number of Chicago friends of Bishop Schwebach remained at his bedside in the hospital yesterday and pronounced his condition to be grave. At the hospital today it was announced the bishop rested easy during the night, but that there was no material change in his condition.

UNKNOWN WOMAN BRUTALLY SLAIN

NEW YORK, July 6.—With her head beaten in and her body covered with bruises so as to render the face unrecognizable, an unknown woman was found dead in the doorway of a tenement house on East Thirtieth street early today. The whole doorstep was covered with blood and bloody tracks showed that the woman's assassins had walked around to the rear of a saloon after killing her and escaped.

The bloody tracks led to the rear of a saloon owned by Baljo Calia and detectives saw a man asleep on a pool table in the rear of the saloon. They arrested him and he gave his name as Phillip Calia, son of the proprietor. He declared that he had been asleep on the pool table all night and knew nothing of the murder. Afterward he said he heard a scuffling about 1 o'clock but had gone back to sleep. The bloody tracks indicated the murderer must have gone right up to the sleeping man. Simon Brady, a night watchman, gave the police a valuable clue. He said:

"I saw a man come out of that hall about 1 o'clock. He was about 21 or 22 years old and short and heavy built. He wore a dark derby hat which was crushed in. He was nervous and I watched him. At First avenue he was joined by five other men. They talked a long while and then walked to Second avenue and the man who came out of the doorway walked into a soda fountain. He asked permission to wash his hands. I came up close and saw that his hands were bloody."

The police believe that the woman was dragged into the hallway and attacked.

SENATORS AWAIT PRINTED REVIEW

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 6.—At 1:15 p. m. the tariff bill was reported to the senate having been completed by the senate sitting as a committee of the whole. At the request of several senators a recess was taken until 3:30 o'clock in order to secure a reprint of the bill with all of the amendments thus far adopted. This was agreed to. It is expected the senate will agree on practically all of the amendments made in the committee of the whole. There are several to which reservations have been made with the intention of securing a separate vote in the senate itself. These include sugar, the corporation tax, the new internal revenue, taxes on tobacco and a number of others but it is believed the bill will be completed and ready to send to the house by Thursday.

Increase on Tobacco

The finance committee of the senate today reported its amendment to the internal revenue laws regarding the taxation of snuff, tobacco and cigars. Consideration of the tobacco tax amendment was deferred until the tobacco schedule is taken up in the senate proper.

Snuff of all descriptions and chewing and smoking tobacco of all kinds are to be taxed eight cents per pound, an increase from six cents under the existing law.

Cigars weighing more than three pounds per thousand are kept at the present rate of $3 per thousand but on the more expensive kinds, valued at between $75 and $110 per thousand the tax is made $6 per thousand. (Continued on page 6.)

"SANE FOURTH" IS GIVING RESULTS

"SANE" CITIES MAKE GOOD

MADISON, Wis., July 6.—(Special.)—While playing with a revolver which her husband had used in firing blank cartridges, Mrs. Sylvia Oakley, 21, a bride of a year, accidentally shot herself and died yesterday. A loaded cartridge was stuck in the weapon unknown to either of the couple.

CHICAGO, July 6.—The Chicago Tribune today publishes a table of the number of persons killed and injured throughout the United States as the result of the two days' celebration of the Fourth of July. It shows that 44 persons lost their lives and 2,361 were seriously injured, many of whom are in danger of death from lockjaw. The lists show that the more rigid laws and the growth of public sentiment for a safe and sane celebration of Independence day have materially reduced the casualties. Full returns up to this morning show a falling off in the number of dead of 12 from the record of 1908, though there was a marked increase in the number of injured. In 1908, 1,899 persons were injured in celebrating the day, 462 fewer than this year. There was also on increase in the fire loss, the total reported this year being $724,515 against $257,960 last year.

The Tribune prints a table showing the number of dead and injured in the larger cities. It follows.

City	Dead	Injured
Boston	2	65
Chicago	1	47
Cleveland	0	0
Detroit	2	84
Kansas City	1	15
Los Angeles	0	9
Milwaukee	0	59
Minneapolis	0	7
New York	5	168
Philadelphia	3	347
Pittsburgh	2	113
Providence	0	15
St. Louis	1	134
Washington, D. C.	0	0

Chicago and its suburbs gave strong evidence of the progress made by the advocates of the "sane Fourth" idea, showing only one death and 44 injured against 12 dead and 114 injured a year ago. Cleveland, Milwaukee, Los Angeles, Washington, D. C., and Providence, R. I., celebrated a "sane Fourth" and there was not a single death in any of them. Cleveland escaped without even an injury.

Some Will Die

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 6.—With 300 serious hospital cases, a number of which will prove fatal, and one death, Philadelphia today is counting the aftermath of the Independence Day celebration. A bursting cannon at Camden, across the river, and three shooting affrays and one stabbing, which will result fatally for three men were added to the regular count of minor accidents.

OMAHA NOT SO BAD

OMAHA, Neb., July 6.—Eighteen injured, one of them perhaps fatally, is the result of OMAHA's celebration of the nation's birth.

One Dead in Detroit

DETROIT, Mich., July 6.—One man burned to death, another drowned, 62 persons injured by fireworks and numerous small fires is the toll of yesterday's Fourth of July celebration in Detroit.

Charles Pick, 57 years old, died a hero. His house caught fire, it is thought, from a stick of sky rocket. The family all rushed out, but Pick, not seeing his little boy in the crowd, rushed back into the flames to find him. Pick was dragged forth by the firemen, horribly burned and dying from inhaling flames. The baby had been safe all the time.

SENATOR THOMAS MORRIS MAY BECOME THE NEXT REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR IF HE LISTENS TO PARTY CALL

RIVAL TONGS ARE ENGAGED IN WAR

New York Chinatown Scene of Incident Attracting International Attention Today

POLICE TO QUELL TROUBLE

Large Force Sent to Quarter With Warning; Wu Ting Fang to Use His Influence

NEW YORK, July 6.—The eyes of two nations are centered on Chinatown today. Forty plain clothes policemen with revolvers slung loose in their holsters are attempting to quell the incipient tong war that has been declared.

Chief Inspector Smittberger and Inspector Rafferty are in personal command of all the Chinatown squad and in constant communication with Police Commissioner Baker.

Up state from one of the summer resorts Gov. Hughes is in hourly touch with the situation; in Washington the state department is looking on with the keenest interest, while Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese ambassador, is also keeping in touch with his trusted agents.

Hep Sing Tong Acts.
The Hep Sing tong declared the present war. Last week in Boston five members of the Hep Sing tong were sentenced to death for killing members of the Ong Leong tong. The Hep Sing tong immediately decreed that for every one of their members put to death in Boston two members of the Ong Leong tong must die. But the Sigel tragedy is more responsible than the Boston court sentence. Leon Ling, the alleged slayer of the pretty mission girl, is a member of the Hep Sing tong. That secret society has done everything in its power to shield him from the police and every scrap of information the police have been able to gain has come from members of the Ong Leong tong.

Wu Ting Fang Alert.
Ambassador Wu Ting Fang got an inkling of the war. He notified the state department at once and the state department took the matter up with Gov. Hughes. The governor immediately notified Commissioner Baker of the pending war, and Baker literally filled Chinatown with armed plain clothes men and ordered them to stop the war. Every Chinese is being "frisked" for weapons.

Must Call It Off

In every joss house in Chinatown the police have posted warning to the members of the two societies that the pending war must be called off, threatening the wrath of two nations if there are any killings.

MORRIS NOW IS IN MISSOURI

Absent from City on Business but F. H. Hartwell Says No Positive Action Has Been Taken

Senator Thomas Morris may be the republican candidate for governor in the next state campaign. Assemblyman J. E. McConnell expressed himself in favor of it this morning, and declared that there is a wide sentiment among republicans throughout the state for the senator.

Mr. McConnell said specifically that he had no authority to say that Senator Morris would make the run, and that he would enter no fight to secure the nomination. But the fact that he discussed the matter at all for publication, and his assumption that, at least in his opinion, the senator would respond to an expression of general sentiment for him, coming as it does from one very close to "Tom," may be taken as a strong suggestion that the La Crosse man is a tentative candidate.

Senator Absent

Senator Morris is in Missouri on legal business, and could not be reached this afternoon. Fred H. Hartwell, who by the way is the senator's law partner, stopped the trial of a case in circuit court long enough to say that in his opinion the senator ought to be governor, and that from what he could learn of sentiment in the republican party he would have backing for the nomination which he could hardly decline to recognize. He said, however, that so far as he knew no definite steps had been taken, nor could he say

KETCHEL RETAINS THE CHAMPIONSHIP

With a Broken Right Arm the Michigan Cyclone Again Beats Papke

MISSION STREET ARENA, COL. MA, Cal., July 6.—Stanley Ketchel, of Montana and Michigan, is still middleweight champion of the world. He retained his title yesterday afternoon in his fight with Billy Papke of Illinois, ex-champion, sending the man from Kewanee down to defeat after another desperate battle.

Though both men made the weight, it was apparent that Ketchel had a great advantage in size and in weight as well, for he looked much bigger than Papke, his broad shoulders standing out prominently.

It was a desperate battle, much the same as the other three that these men have fought, and excited the great crowd to a wonderful degree.

Ketchel started the milling immediately in the opening round, and lead easily up to the sixth round, when he seemed hurt by the Thunderbolt's smashes to the face and body. In the tenth round, Ketchel fought fiercely, putting Papke on the defensive for the greater part of the time and scoring a knockout. He attempted to get in a knockout but failed, the Illinois lad getting stronger at the end of the round.

In the next round, Ketchel, who seemed to be tiring, sent in several hot punches to the jaw and the body, pinning Papke to the ropes at the end of the eleventh.

Papke came in swinging in the last round and they went into a clinch. Roche separated them, but they clinched again, Ketchel using left hooks to the face and Papke swinging to the body. The referee was busier than either of the fighters. Ketchel got both hands free and hammered away. Papke swung a hard right to the jaw and followed with lefts. Ketchel pressed him to the ropes and sent in left after left to the stomach, with Papke holding on. He tried for a right uppercut on the break. Clinch again, Ketchel pinned him to the ropes with body lefts. Ketchel did nearly all the fighting. He missed with left and right swings, but forced Papke into the corner and smashed in left body blows as fast as he could work his arm. He was at it when the final gong sounded. Then Referee Roche pulled the assassin away and raised Ketchel's left arm aloft as a signal that he had won.

Willis Britt jumped into the ring when the decision was rendered and told the newspaper men that Ketchel had broken his right arm in the seventh round.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults, and when reduced with water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take.

Jack Wolford, pitching for the locals at Winona yesterday afternoon, lost his own game by forcing over a score by a base on balls in the fourth inning, the final result being Winona 2, La Crosse 1. The local lad held the Scrappers down to two hits but donated eight passes to the first station, these being responsible for the Clippers' victory.

The game was witnessed by the largest crowd ever had at the Winona baseball park; the people not finding room in the stands surged onto the field, making ground rules necessary. A large local delegation attended the game.

In the fourth Wolford hit Curtis, after McHale had been retired, and Crangle flew out to Malloy. Then Wolford gave three bases on balls to Corbett, Killian and Daley, forcing Curtis over the plate with the first run. Goodman struck out.

In the seventh, Safford led off for La Crosse with a triple to center and scored when Crangle dropped Barlow's fly to right.

In Winona's half of the seventh Goodman was first up and was passed. Killian popped to Klein in attempting to sacrifice. While Love was at bat Goodman started to steal and Love swung, fouling the ball so it struck Klein in the chest and bounded in front of the batter. Umpire Osborne couldn't see the foul, although it was plainly heard in all parts of the grandstand and refused to send Goodman back to first. In the talkfest which followed Bunny Wilhelm left third base uncovered and Goodman annexed that station also. Then Love struck out and McHale hit to Wilhelm, who threw to Barlow. The throw was a little high but Barlow caught the ball and came down on the bag before McHale had reached the sack. Umpire Osborne called him safe and Goodman scored on the play.

In the ninth Barlow hit down the first base line into the crowd and was entitled to two bases on the hit according to the ground rules adopted before the game, but the umpire refused to allow him to go to second, even after the ball had been returned to the diamond and he made the station on a wild throw. Kraher followed with a single to center, on which Barlow could easily have scored from second, had he been allowed the base as the ground rules called for. Wilhelm forced Kraher and Watson, batting for Wolford, struck out.

Jack Wolford, pitching for the locals at Winona yesterday afternoon, lost his own game by forcing over a score by a base on balls in the fourth inning, the final result being Winona 2, La Crosse 1. The local lad held the Scrappers down to two hits but donated eight passes to the first station, these being responsible for the Clippers' victory.

The game was witnessed by the largest crowd ever had at the Winona baseball park; the people not finding room in the stands surged onto the field, making ground rules necessary. A large local delegation attended the game.

In the fourth Wolford hit Curtis, after McHale had been retired, and Crangle flew out to Malloy. Then Wolford gave three bases on balls to Corbett, Killian and Daley, forcing Curtis over the plate with the first run. Goodman struck out.

In the seventh, Safford led off for La Crosse with a triple to center and scored when Crangle dropped Barlow's fly to right.

In Winona's half of the seventh Goodman was first up and was passed. Killian popped to Klein in attempting to sacrifice. While Love was at bat Goodman started to steal and Love swung, fouling the ball so it struck Klein in the chest and bounded in front of the batter. Umpire Osborne couldn't see the foul, although it was plainly heard in all parts of the grandstand and refused to send Goodman back to first. In the talkfest which followed Bunny Wilhelm left third base uncovered and Goodman annexed that station also. Then Love struck out and McHale hit to Wilhelm, who threw to Barlow. The throw was a little high but Barlow caught the ball and came down on the bag before McHale had reached the sack. Umpire Osborne called him safe and Goodman scored on the play.

In the ninth Barlow hit down the

Not only are you guaranteed the same high class workmanship that goes into all our clothes, but you get the pick of our entire stock of woollens from the looms of the world's most famous manufacturers.

You get your suit for just what it costs us to produce—We have forfeited our profit to keep our tailors busy during the summer months.

The goods are marked with tags which show the saving from former low price, and you can step in and be your own salesman.

All our regular $15.00 and $17.50 goods (the kind other tailors ask $22.50 and $25.00 for) go at $13.50, and are marked with red tags.

Those fabrics for which we have always got $20.00 and $22.50 (at other tailors' $30.00) are reduced to $16.50, and marked with yellow tags.

The goods bearing the green tags are what other tailors get $40.00 for. Our price is only $19.50.

Don't you think it a good investment to order a suit right now.

Flexibility of Power

The Offset Crank Shaft is what gives the Rambler engine its flexibility of power. The Rambler will run smoothly and quietly on high gear at 3 or 40 miles an hour. It allows the owner to conform easily to the limitations of congested city traffic, without constant gear changing.

The Car with the Offset Crank Shaft

Touring in the country with a Rambler has an added charm, because it does its work so steadily and quietly when running slowly under load and on hills or in sand, where every ounce of power at low engine speeds is needed.

A CHANCE FOR THE MAYOR.

The Tribune suggests to the mayor and city council a careful reading of the list of Fourth of July casualties appearing on the first page of this paper and, by way of comparison, calls particular attention to the following paragraphs with which the accompanying article concludes:

Chicago and its suburbs gave strong evidence of the progress made by the advocates of the "Sane Fourth" idea, showing only one death and 44 injured as against 12 dead and 114 injured a year ago.

Cleveland, Milwaukee, Los Angeles, Washington, D. C., and Providence, R. I., celebrated a "sane Fourth" and there was not a single death in any of them. Cleveland escaped without even an injury.

Mayor Sorensen is believed to be earnestly determined to make a record that will give his administration distinction. In no way, we believe, could he do anything more certain to reflect credit upon his incumbency, as viewed by future years, than to make effective in La Crosse laws compelling the observance of the "sane Fourth" here in the future.

The record made in the cities that have adopted it, as shown in our dispatches today, fully sustains the proposition that the one way to prevent suffering and death in the celebration of our greatest national holiday is to restrict the celebration by law to what is harmless and proper.

Here is money, my boy, to go down to the store.
Some bunches of crackers to buy.
And rockets and pinwheels and maybe balloons.
For tomorrow's the Fourth of July.
And the crackers will bang, with a beautiful noise,
And the rockets will burst overhead
And fall in a glorious fountain of fire
Or stars of blue, yellow and red.

You can get some torpedoes to add to the din,
And perhaps a toy pistol, as well.
With plenty of cartridges, blanks, to be used
The smoke and the racket to swell.
And do not forget on your way to stop in

Of arnica, court-plaster, lotions and lint.

The Reason for His Faith.
Former Gov. Glenn of North Carolina tells this story, apropos of President Taft's boost of the possum to fame:

Three colored brethren, happening to meet at a crossroads one day, fell into a discussion. Elder Jackson stated that in his opinion the country was going to the dogs, therefore he allowed he was a pessimist.

Elder Hightower combated this view, seeing that the panic was about over and his price of cotton was on the rise. He declared himself a firm optimist.

When Deacon Powell was called on for his opinion he scratched his head reflectively for a moment and said: "Well, brudderin', hit 'pears to me dat 'simmons is 'bout ripe now, thuffo I 'spects I is a possum-ist!"—Buffalo Commercial.

Real Laziness.
George Washington drew a long sigh and said: "Ah wish Ah had a hundred watermills."

Dixie's eyes lighted. "Hum! Dat would suddenly be fine! An' ef yo' had a hundred watermills would yo' gib me fifty?"

"No, Ah wouldn't."
"Wouldn't yo' gib me twenty-five?"

"No, Ah wouldn't gib yo' no twenty-five."
Dixie gazed with reproachful eyes at his close-fisted friend. "Seems to me, yo's powahful stingy," George Washington, he said, and then continued, in a heartbroken voice, "Wouldn't yo' gib me one?"

"No, Ah wouldn't gib yo' one. Look a heah, niggah! Are yo' so good for nuffen lazy dat yo' can't wish fo' yo' own watermills?"—Young Magazine.

Absent All Around.
The absent-minded professor returned home one evening, and, after ringing his front doorbell for some time to no effect, heard the maid's voice from the second-story window: "The professor is not in."

"All right," quietly answered the professor. "I'll call again." And he hobbled down the stone steps. —Lippincott's.

A Poetical Tip

Johnny and His Boss.
The boss entered the office, his face clouded, his brow wrinkled in angry thought. He called the office boy. Regarding the youth sternly, he said:

"Johnny, do you smoke cigarettes?"

The boss fixed him with his eagle eye.

Her Proposal
"You've been courting me now for a number of years, George," remarked a girl to a young man. "And I want to make a leap year proposal."

"I am not in a position to marry just yet," stammered the youth; "but—"

"Who said anything about marriage?" interrupted the girl. "I was going to propose that you stop coming here and give somebody else a chance."—Philadelphia Ledger.

WISCONSIN NEWS

SANE CELEBRATION WAS LAUGHABLE

JANESVILLE, Wis., July 6.—Ten thousand visitors from Chicago, Rockford, Beloit, Madison, Milwaukee and the neighboring countryside attended Janesville's big Fourth of July celebration and home coming yesterday. No serious accidents were reported.

The celebration started with a big industrial parade under the direction of Eugene Fish in the forenoon, followed by an address by Wallace Ingalls of Racine.

The Baker Military band of Evansville, Fort Atkinson, Beloit, Albion, and Janesville, all drawn in gorgeous chariots, took part in the Big Biennial Nonesuch Brothers Burlesque Circus parade, which was the feature of the afternoon, and over 100 cages of wild beasts from the barnyard, home-made elephants and camels, clown bands and floats were in line.

MOTORCYCLIST DEAD; COLLIDED WITH TRAIN

MILWAUKEE, July 6.—Walter M. Stark, one of Milwaukee's expert motor-cyclists, was struck and almost instantly killed by a train at the crossing of the Milwaukee road with the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul tracks, near Racine, Monday morning.

Stark and several other members of the Milwaukee Motorcycle club were riding to Racine.

The railroad crosses the Milwaukee road at grade, but the tracks are hidden behind a high board fence. Companions who rode with Stark say they neither saw nor heard the approaching train.

A baggage car struck Stark, hurled him against a depot platform, fracturing his skull and then threw him nearly 100 feet down the track.

SANITARIUM AT FOX LAKE BURNED

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 6.—Fox Lake sanitarium at Fox Lake, Wis., once Downer college and later the Peerless hotel, a well known hostelry, was destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock Monday morning, the loss being $200,000.

Twenty-five patients were thrown into a panic and most of them had to escape in their night clothes. Fortunately, none of them was bedridden, and the heroic work of attendants prevented any accidents.

SLEEPS ON TRACK; DEAD.

WEST BEND, Wis., July 6.—Geo. Eragg, 40 years old, a laborer, while asleep on the North-Western track, was struck by a train and instantly killed. Bragg, whose home is in Chicago, in company with other members of the crew was on his way back to the gravel pit when he laid down with one of the rails as a head rest. He was nearly decapitated.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

SCHALLENGER PRODS THE COURTS

OMAHA, Neb., July 6.—In a letter to the Nebraska press, Governor Schallenberger makes this comment on the issuance of a federal court order restraining the operation of the bank guaranty law:

"I have all possible respect for our courts, but believe the law passed at the last session of the legislature expresses the will of the people of Nebraska. The legislature is solely for the law, and as that body is the only voice the people have, its mandate can set aside the expressed will of the people of a sovereign state when legislating upon a matter relating purely state corporations, a single judge has a power more potent than the voice of a million and a half people expressed through constitutional authority. This should make plain to the people of the state the necessity for non-partisan judges on the bench.

"I want the people to know that I shall exercise every constitutional right given me under the constitution before their expressed will shall be defeated."

ST. PAUL EAGLE MAY BE SHORT

ST. PAUL, July 6.—John F. Diethorn, who resigned a few days ago, as financial secretary of the St. Paul Eagle of Eagles, is alleged by the auditing committee to be short $1,624 in his accounts, and they declare that a warrant will be sworn out charging Diethorn with larceny.

The accused man denies there is any shortage and says that the charges are the result of personal spite against him by John F. Colwell, deputy grand worthy president of the order in Minnesota.

Diethorn says he is not a bookkeeper, and has not kept the accounts in the best shape, but he is not short, and has asked the committee in vain to tell him where the shortage is. He promises to make up the amount if he is shown that he owes the eagle any money.

KILLED BY AN AUTO

MINNEAPOLIS, July 6.—Crushed by his own automobile, James F. Corcoran sustained such severe injuries Saturday morning that he died twenty-four hours later in St. Mary's hospital.

The machine ran off the road and in trying to reach the highway the car was overturned.

MARVEL FLOUR ALWAYS PURE

MARVEL Flour has never been bleached, and never will be bleached, because we use only the highest grade of wheat and spend plenty of time and money in the natural, perfect milling of all flour that bears our name. We don't have to change our plant to comply with the law. Order MARVEL Flour from your grocer now. It is pure and always has been. Other flours have been forced by the U. S. Government to stop "bleaching" and become pure.

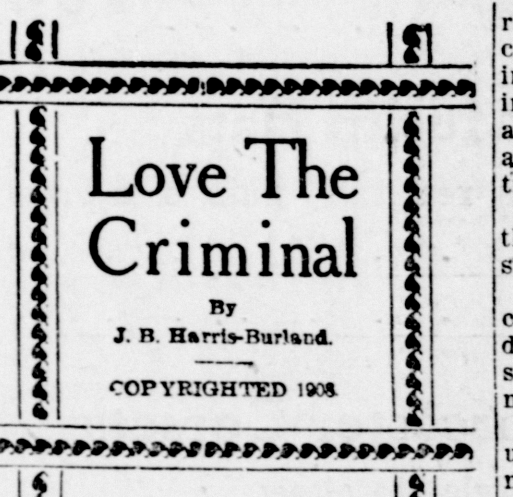

MARVEL Flour is pure; the same today as it always has been, the most platable, nourishing and economical flour in the world.

Don't eat baker's bread unless you know that it is made from MARVEL Flour. We mill only the highest grade wheat, and yet our flour costs no more than the poorly made and bleached product. You will make better and more bread, biscuits, cake and pastry with MARVEL than you will with any flour sold today. Try it and satisfy yourself. Its pure, healthful, nourishing and economical.

Listman Mill Co., La Crosse, Wis.

Though one of the Oldest and Largest Millers in the U. S., we've never made a bleached flour.

It was after one of his vain attempts at love-making that the crust of the volcano was at last shattered, and the red hot steam of his wrath poured out in a torrent of words. He had been pleading gently for his wife's love, and she had listened to him with a calm, white face. Then, as usual, he paused, hesitated, and stammered out a few broken sentences, which were frozen into silence. Then he rose to his feet and walked towards the door, but before he reached it, he turned and came back with clenched hands and blazing eyes.

And then the storm broke, a storm of bitter invective, and sneers, and accusations, and foul oaths that no woman could hear without shaming.

But Laura faced him unflinchingly, with pale lips, and quiet pity in her eyes. She realized that she had come to another turning point on the steep road of her life, and that she might yet once more have to decide between good and evil, and that she would need all the strength of her religion to guide her steps aright.

At last the fury of Tankerlane's outburst exhausted itself, and he stood waiting for a reply with flushed face and quivering limbs. All the good of the past year had been swept away in that one tirade of extravagant abuse. The man had forgotten himself, and had forgotten the respect due to a woman. He had spoken like a madman. All that he had suffered found vent in foul language and bitter denunciation.

Yet Laura did not wince as she listened to him. She stood like some calm and beautiful saint with pity in her eyes. She knew well enough what this last year had meant to the man who loved her with all his heart and soul. How even her life of piety and charity must have eaten into his heart. Yet he had never thrust his society on her; he had pleaded to her for the love she denied him, but his pleadings had never passed a certain point. Her silence had always checked them, and he had retired from the struggle without even a word of rebuke.

And now that he had lost all his self-control, and was behaving more like a brute than an English gentleman, she did not even resent his language, though the wife of a costermonger might have fled from it with disgust and loathing, but she had learnt to be more charitable to the sins of others. She realized how he must have suffered before he allowed himself to give way to this horrible outburst.

"Your duty, yes; and you have done it well—as a housekeeper, as a friend, but as a wife—I ask for love and you give me duty; for bread and you give me a stone."
"You know I cannot love you," she replied sadly. "I would do so, if I could control my heart. But love cannot come from an effort of the will. I can only give you all that is in my power. I look after your comfort; I try to make you happy."
He stepped forward and caught her in his arms. "Happy," he cried fiercely, "do you think I can ever be happy till I have won your love?" He looked down at her face with passionate eyes, and bent his head as if to kiss her. But, as he did so his soul revolted against the act. It seemed almost a sacrilege to defile that white face with the touch of earthly passion.

He shuddered, and let go of his wife, though she had not even tried to free herself from his embrace. "You cold, beautiful saint," he exclaimed. "Why don't you cry out? Why don't you strike me in the face? Why don't you revile me for the words I have used? It would be better than this silence, than this quiet submission. When I touch you, it is like touching a block of ice. But I cannot endure it longer. We must part. You must go your way, and I must go mine. I do not know what will happen if we live together any longer. Perhaps I shall go mad, and strangle you. It will be better for us to be apart. I cannot live like this."

"I have tried so hard," she faltered. "No one knows that I am anything but a loving wife—and I have tried—to make it easy for you."
"Give me love," he thundered, holding out his hands, "that is all I want; give me love."
"I have no love to give," she replied. "I have dedicated my life to the poor and suffering."

"Yes, yes," he cried, "but what of me? You can find peace in your good deeds; but what have I to take the place of love? Do you think that this dreary country life satisfies me, that a round of dinners and garden parties is all that I want; that shooting and hunting and fishing can fill up my life? What of me, Laura, with no serious object in life to distract my thoughts? Do you think that I can endure it?"

"There are many things a man can do, many things into which he can fling himself heart and soul. Politics, for instance; why don't you stand for Parliament?"
"Bah!" he cried angrily. "I haven't brain enough to take any place in politics, and I don't wish to be a silent member of a back seat. No, Laura, we must part. I am going to leave you. I shall go abroad. Perhaps the doctor has ordered it for my health. Perhaps I want to shoot big game—something that will strike back and not roll over like a rabbit. Any excuse will do. I shall leave you at once."

"I can go, if you wish me to. This is your house, your own home."
"No, Laura," he replied firmly. "you are better here. Go on with the work you have begun. Perhaps you will think more kindly of me when I am away. I cannot hope that you will ever respect me again after the words I have used to you today. The devil within me spoke. For months I have tried to control myself. I can do it no longer. You know now what to expect of me if I stay here. But there shall be no repetition of this scene. I am going to leave at once. There will be no scandal."

CAMPBELL STARTS NEW $350 LICENSE

No Saloons Will Quit on Account of Increase in Tax Against Their Business

Today the $350 license for saloons goes into effect in the town of Campbell, which is $150 more than the tax imposed upon the dispensers of liquors in previous years. All the saloons in the town of Campbell report a large business during the past year and investigation shows that every saloonkeeper has taken out a license to do business again this year.

Many thought that raising the tax would have a tendency to decrease the number of saloons, but one saloonkeeper when asked what he thought about the advance in the fee replied that the advance in the liquor license would not decrease the number of saloons, as the people who operate these saloons pay for the licenses.

SUPT. CHENEY'S CAR OFF THE TRACKS

As a result of a brakeman on the Milwaukee railroad throwing on the brakes between the trucks of the special car belonging to Assistant Superintendent Cheney of Milwaukee, the car was thrown off the track this morning at Tunnel City. The car was entirely off the rails and the damages to the coach were serious enough to call the wrecking crew from this city. After six hours of work the car was finally set back on the rails and it was then brought to this city to remain until 10:36, when it was pulled to Minneapolis. Mr. Cheney was on his way to Seattle on an inspection tour. No one was injured.

If people with symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble could realize their danger they would without loss of time commence taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. This great remedy stops the pain and the irregularities, strengthens and builds up these organs and there is no danger of Bright's disease or other serious disorder. Do not disregard the early symptoms. O. T. Erhart.

As the pump house at Onalaska was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning that city was left without protection from fire all day but at an early hour this morning the machinery was repaired to such an extent that water enough to supply the city until new pumps are installed can be furnished. The station was a complete loss, portions of but two walls standing.

Everyone would be benefitted by taking Foley's Orino Laxative for stomach and liver trouble and habitual constipation. OLD FRIENDS OF S. Y. HYDE VISIT

S. Y. Hyde of this city enjoyed a call yesterday from three of his old friends from Winona, Charles Horton, A. B. Youmans and Captain John F. Martin. The latter gentleman is 85 years of age, and was sheriff of Winona county for many years. The party arrived in Mr. Horton's automobile and despite the fact that their average age is 79 years, they enjoyed the trip and are as Mr. Hyde says "young old boys." Messrs. Hyde, Horton, Youmans and Martin have been old friends since the early fifties, and all are prominent in the industrial world.

AUTO PARTY HAS EVENTFUL TRIP

Mrs. Laura Chase, Son and Daughter Finally Come Into City in a Carriage

"A peck of trouble" is not expressive enough to describe the many ailments which afflicted an automobile party composed of Mrs. Laura Chase and son and daughter, who arrived in La Crosse Sunday after an eventful trip from Chicago.

At Ontario, Wis., the large touring car in which they made the journey, lost a tire. This trouble was remedied after considerable difficulty and the party proceeded toward La Crosse, only to have a worse accident when within five miles of this city. Something went wrong with the machine, while they were almost on the brink of the bluff and it was stopped just in time to prevent a serious accident.

Miss Miriam Harrison of this city brought the party to La Crosse yesterday in a carriage. A team will be sent out today to bring in the refractory automobile.

A BIG DAY FOR MODERN WOODMEN

Final Preparations Made for Consolidating Camps July 9; Program Is Interesting

Final preparations are being made for the formal consolidation of the two south side camps of Modern Woodmen, which will take place on Friday evening, July 9th. An interesting program has been arranged by the committee in charge and it will be a "red letter event" for the order in this city.

With the consolidation of the two camps the total membership will be about eight hundred. Plans are being made to form a "Booster Club" at once for the purpose of reaching the 1,000 mark by the end of the year.

State Deputy Head Consul B. F. Keeler has just returned from a trip to Colorado Springs, where he inspected the Modern Woodman sanitarium and he will give a report of his investigation at this meeting. Paul W. Mahoney will give a review of the society and what it has accomplished in La Crosse. Jno. E. McConnell will give an address on "Fraternity."

Refreshments will be served and the meeting will be closed with a smoker.

Black River camp, No. 507, of North La Crosse, has been invited. The meeting is for Woodmen only and all are invited.

RED WING FLYER IS STILL SUPREME

Builders' of Other Fast
Boats on Upper Mississippi Afraid of Her

"MINNIESKA" QUILTS RACE
Though Having Nearly Twice the Power She Turns Back; Red Wing
Race Alone

Racing boat builders of the Mississippi river valley do not seem able to build a craft that will get into the same class with the famous "Red Wing Flyer," the boat which for two seasons has held the championship of the upper Mississippi river, for in the races at Wabasha and Red Wing July 3rd and 5th the fast Red Wing boat walked away from all entries, taking all the money and scaring ambitious competitors out altogether.

The speed of the Flyer seems altogether beyond any attempts of duplication. Whether it is her sleek and speedy hull or the perfection and speed of her 6-30 Red Wing engine remains a mystery to the uninitiated, but the fact remains that rival builders can't make a boat which will compete with her, although several firms have been working during the past winter to turn out a faster craft.

At Wabasha Saturday the "Min-nieska," with a 6-cylinder 5½ inch bore and 6 inch stroke engine rated at 60 horse power, was so badly outclassed from the start that she turned back soon after the race started, conceding the supremacy to the Flyer, which went around the 13-mile course alone, winning the first money of $200. The Flyer made the 13 miles in less than half an hour, but highest speed was not maintained, as it was unnecessary. The Flyer's engine is a 6-cylinder with 4½ inch bore and 4½ inch stroke with a rating of 30 horse power. The Flyer has been perfected in the matter of under water resistance and various fittings and equipment until she is running several miles faster than last year, when she first captured the upper river championship.

In the class B race the Jo Wait of Durand won over three competitors, taking $100 prize money.

The Red Wing Races

Yesterday the "Flyer" had no competition at all at Red Wing. The Minnesko, defeated Saturday at Wabasha, evidently did not care to start again, and the news had spread to the owners of the "Twin Sister II," a Winona entrant, for that craft also failed to appear. The "Twin Sister II" has 6 cylinders, 5½x5½. The Flyer again run over the 20 mile course alone, covering the distance in 45 minutes and 11 seconds and taking first money.

from a week's outing at the Russell cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fetter spent the Fourth of July at Lake Beulah, Ningham, Miss Louise Easton, Messrs.
Gertrude Foster, who have been in Philadelphia for a number of weeks, where Miss Foster submitted to a serious surgical operation, returned home yesterday morning.

To provide interest for the big crowd J. R. Trautner, owner of the Flyer, arranged a race with an automobile. The auto went six miles into the country and return, a distance of 12 miles, and the Flyer was run around the course once, a distance of ten miles. Owing to a bad start the Flyer finished two minutes behind the automobile, but nevertheless the race was a novel and exciting one.

There were several other good racing events during the day, but the performances of the Flyer attracted all the interest and enthusiasm.

Frank J. Munz, Otto Munz, John C. Toeller and Charles T. Close went to Red Wing Sunday in the Munz &
Thwing boat to witness the races, staying over yesterday. They say the performances of the Flyer were sufficient to enthrall any boat owner who appreciates speed, style and fine performance.

HAND HURT BY CANNON CRACKER

Holding a large cannon cracker, which he did not think was lighted, until it exploded, lacerated the hand of William Harrison, 721 State street, to such an extent that it was necessary to take the young man to the La Crosse hospital. The injury proved very painful and will cost him the use of his hand for a few weeks but no permanent disfigurement is feared.

AN OLD TIMER Has Had Experiences.

A woman who has used Postum since it came upon the market knows from experience the wisdom of using Postum in place of coffee if one values health and a clear brain. She says:

"At the time Postum was first put on the market I was suffering from nervous dyspepsia, and my physician had repeatedly told me not to use tea or coffee. Finally I decided to take his advice and try Postum. I got a package and had it carefully prepared, finding it delicious to the taste. So I continued its use and very soon its beneficial effects convinced me of its value, for I got well of my nervousness and dyspepsia. "My husband had been drinking coffee all his life until it had affected his nerves terribly, and I persuaded him to shift to Postum. It was easy to get him to make the change for the Postum is so delicious. It certainly worked wonders for him. "We soon learned that Postum does not exhilarate or depress and does not stimulate, but steadily and honestly strengthens the nerves and the stomach. "To make a long story short, our entire family continued to use Postum with satisfying results as shown in our fine condition of health and we have noticed a rather unexpected improvement in brain and nerve power. "Increased brain and power always follows the use of Postum in place of coffee, sometimes in a very marked manner. "There's a Reason."

TAFT TAKES PART AT FT. TICONDEROGA

Sheriff Swears in 100 Deputies to Keep Order "Among Members of N. Y. Legislature"

FORT TICONDEROGA, N. Y., July 6.—With President Taft as the central figure the celebration of the centenary of the discovery of Lake Champlain took place here today. Among other notable sharing in the festivities are Vice President Sherman, Gov. Hughes, Ambassadors Bryce and Jusserand, Governor Proctor of Vermont, and members of the legislatures of New York and Vermont.

The Franco-Americans are in charge of the program today which was begun early with high mass at St. Peter's church. This afternoon was taken up with a procession of floats, representing the sequential history of Explorer Champlain and of this city.

A reproduction of the cross raised by Montcalm on July 5, 1673, the French commander, to celebrate his victory over the British General Abercrombie was raised yesterday by the Ticonderoga Historical society, with impressive ceremonies.

Borrowing "Cops." "Lend me your cops," is the cry that is going up from the cities along the banks of the lake and the sister cities are responding. The visit of President Taft and the thousands of visitors who are pouring into the lake cities is the reason for the "C. Q. D." call for policemen.

In addition to borrowed policemen who are maintaining splendid order, the sheriff of Clinton county, in which Plattsburgh is situated, has sworn in 100 special deputies and it will be the business of these deputies to guard the president and take care of crowds. When Secret Service Operative Wheeler went to Plattsburgh Sunday to lay out the route for the president to travel while there the sheriff proudly informed him of the 100 deputies.

After Tammanyites. "Do you think you will need them all?" asked Wheeler.

"Sure to, sure to," answered the sheriff, wagging the elongated alfalfa appended to his chin and giving his tin star a hitch on his coat. "You see I've got to be ready to watch them fellers from the New York legislature. From all I've read in them city papers, I reckon them fellers is a grand set of rogues. But, by jingo, if they try anything unlawful at Ticonderoga they'll wish they hadn't."

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. Changes of water and climate often cause sudden attacks of diarrhoea, and it is best to be prepared.

ARBITERS TO MEET ON CAR STRIKE

Fred H. Hartwell and W. J. Ferris, appointed as arbitrators to settle the differences still existing between the employees of the La Crosse Railway company and the company expect to hold a meeting this evening or tomorrow morning for the purpose of selecting the third member of the arbitration board.

Owing to the inability of the committee to agree, the matter of a wage scale to take effect at once, a schedule of hours and the matter of reinstating Motorman Louis Thrun have been left to the arbitrators for settlement.

Mr. Ferris who was appointed by the company is at present at the waterpower works at Hatfield, but is expected to return tonight.

The conferences will be presided over by the Rev. C. Schuttis, general president, Columbus, O., and the Rev. Henry Eisenbach, district president, Oconto, Wis., and will be in session until July 13th.

PAPKE ROBBED IS BECKER'S PROTEST

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Sherburn Becker, former mayor of Milwaukee, said to the United Press after the Papke-Ketchel fight: "It was the worst, rottenest, rankest decision ever given in a prize ring. It was a direct steal for Ketchel, no doubt due to the fact that Ketchel was a heavy favorite in the betting. It is decisions like that that kill the fighting game. I can't say anything too strong against it."

TONIC PILLS FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

A Wisconsin Woman Tells of the Wonderful Results in Her Own Case.

There are plenty of remedies by which you can relieve for the time heartburn, pain and gas on the stomach and can smother nervous sensations and induce artificial sleep. But when you take your next meal all your troubles begin afresh.

Experience shows that these troubles vanish just as soon as the stomach is made strong enough to digest the food. In other words, it needs a tonic that will rouse it to do the work of changing the food into nourishment. The tonic used ought to be one that will agree with the most delicate stomach.

Mrs. Etzel B. Malcomson, a farmer's wife, of R. F. D. No. 5, Whitewater, Wis., praises Dr. Williams' Pink Pills very highly for the benefit she received from them for a severe case of stomach trouble. She says:

"I suffered with stomach trouble for a year and received no relief from the doctors' treatment. They didn't seem to know what ailed me and I continually became worse. Just before my sickness I had worked very hard and was all broken down in health. My stomach was so weak that I couldn't retain any food to amount to anything. I lived on light food for over six months and was reduced in weight to 85 pounds. I could not sit up and just had to lie down all the time. I would see dark spots before my eyes, especially in the morning on arising. I was dizzy all of the time and was in fear of falling whenever I stood up. I was getting weaker and weaker and had spells when I thought my breath would leave my body. I thought I would never get any better."

"A friend, who had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, recommended them to me. They seemed to be just what I needed and I got better at once. I took several boxes altogether and was cured. I shall always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for I owe my good health to them."

Every dyspeptic should have a copy of our diet book which is mailed free to any address. Send postal card request for a copy today. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

PAVING ON KING STREET FINISHED

Mead Company Completes Job but North Side Work Is Delayed by Lack of Granite

The Mead Stone company today finished their contract for the paving of the block on King street, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets. The block now presents a neat appearance with its granite dressed macadam and in the eyes of the residents fills a long felt want. This is the last of the granite top dressed streets for the South side.

The eleven blocks of paving on Clinton street, on the North side, is progressing slowly, because of the difficulty which the La Crosse Stone company is experiencing in getting the necessary amount of granite for the top dressing. The macadam has been rolled and is all ready for the finishing, but this will be delayed until the granite is secured.

Friday at 2 o'clock in the office of the board of public works, the contract for the replacing of the condemned sidewalks about the city will be let. There is about 6,000 square feet of old sidewalks which spectator and will have to be replaced by good walks, of cement or some other durable material.

REP. CUSHMAN DIES

NEW YORK, July 6.—Representative Francis W. Cushman of Tacoma, Wash., died at the Roosevelt hospital here this morning after an illness of several weeks. United States Senator Samuel H. Piles of Washington, and Andrew S. Burling of this city, a lifelong friend, were at his bedside when he died. Pneumonia following a slight operation was the cause.

DIAMONDS OF THE PUREST QUALITY

The belief in the value of diamonds as an investment is rapidly becoming a popular one, and the quality of our stones, the finest to be had, is a strong factor in the growth of the investment idea in La Crosse.

There is nothing sordid in hoarding beautiful diamonds, and regard for their value detracts nothing from esthetic appreciation.

WIDE SENTIMENT IN STATE FOR HIM

whether his partner would entertain the idea. The possibility of Senator Morris becoming a candidate has been quietly the talk in political circles throughout the state ever since early in the legislative session, and his name has grown in favor. An article which appeared in The Milwaukee Sentinel this morning, written by George P. Mathes, the paper's political correspondent, is the first published recognition of the growing feeling in favor of the La Crosse man. The story follows:

Mathes' Story. "La Crosse advises say that the friends of Senator Thomas Morris are quietly grooming him for gubernatorial honors."

"The story of Mrs. Jones and her little son seems pat here. When Mrs. Jones informed the boy she was going to marry Mr. Smith, the youngster inquired, 'Does Mr. Smith know about it, ma?'"

"The question is, does Senator Morris know about it? The senator has never been fierce in his rush after state-wide honors and from past actions it would look as though considerable grooming would have to be done to get him to enter the race."

"It is said in the same connection that Morris is Senator La Follette's choice for governor. If this be so it would look as though Mr. McGovern was coming in for another exemplification of the double cross. It was supposed that if McGovern were willing to hook up with the senator the friends of the latter felt it would be a strong combination and have been working along those lines."

"Now if a switch has been made or is to be made to Senator Morris the wires may become badly crossed. The chances, however, are that this talk regarding Senator Morris as a gubernatorial candidate is purely tentative and based on his acceptance later, which is something hardly to be looked for. The senator is a holdover, having two years more to serve."

"Unless Senator La Follette should insist on his running it would look as though he would prefer to serve out his term; even then there might be doubts as to his assenting to the program, as Senator Morris, while an intense La Follette man, is also possessed of considerable independence and is more apt to consult his own feelings than the wishes of others."

"It is said, however, that his name will be brought forward unless he should nip the movement in the bud."

Information Not Definite. It is noticeable that Mr. Mathes assumes no information to the effect that Senator Morris has indicated that he is considering the nomination, and no one in La Crosse is in a position to say definitely what his attitude will be. In discussing the matter this afternoon Assemblyman McConnell said:

Will Accept But Not Fight. "To anyone familiar with political discussion at Madison during the past winter, there is nothing new or startling in the Sentinel's article. There has been a good deal of discussion in a quiet way throughout the winter looking toward the possible candidacy of Senator Morris for governor. He has never encouraged this talk and I have no authority to speak for him. In fact, I do not know that he knows how frequently his name has been mentioned in connection with the nomination for governor. I do not know what his attitude in the matter may be, but I believe that he would never be anything more than a receptive candidate. If it seems best to the republicans of the state that he should become a candidate for governor, he would doubtless respect their wishes."

BRIDE AND GROOM DIE WITH SMILES

Laugh at Warnings as Skiff Floats Over Dam at South Bend and Both Drown

SOUTH BEND, Ind., July 6.—With a smile on their lips as their boat approached the dam near Island Park on the St. Joe river and with many people along the bank shouting a warning to them, a man and woman in a rowboat were carried over the dam and drowned here yesterday afternoon. As the boat approached the dam the man stood up and calmly lit a cigarette but paid no attention to the shouts of the crowd.

A Bride and Groom

The drowned couple are Herman Lindemann, 25, of Chicago, and his wife, who came here via the St. Joseph, Mich., boat line Sunday and announced their intention of staying several days at a local hotel. They went to the river yesterday morning and rented a boat. The young man in answer to the question how long they would want it, said "An hour will do."

This, coupled with the fact that no letters or papers were found in his coat which has been recovered and that the only writing among the effects in his suitcase left at the hotel was a book containing a number of Chicago addresses, would in a measure substantiate the belief of the boatman, founded on the fact that they gave no heed to his warnings and continued toward the river dam, that it was a case of premeditated suicide. Persons passing over the bridge which is but a short distance from the dam also shouted to the couple and assert that the male occupant stood up in the boat and laughed.

There was nothing about their conduct at the hotel which would indicate a suicide pact, it is said.

Suicide Is Denied

CHICAGO, July 6.—The tragedy which snuffed out the lives of Herman Lindemann and his bride at South Bend came within 36 hours of their marriage, according to the relatives here. They scout the statement of the authorities at South Bend that the couple committed suicide in a death compact and insist that the drowning must have been accidental.

ALBERT RYNNING DIES IN ST. LOUIS

Mrs. Cathinka Rynning, 1418 Charles street, and son Rolf, returned this morning from St. Louis where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Rynning's son, Albert Jerome Rynning, who died there Friday as a result of a forty foot fall from a building where he was engaged as civil engineer. The accident occurred Wednesday and the young man died 24 hours afterward, before the arrival of his relatives. He was buried at St. Louis.

Mr. Rynning was a graduate of the La Crosse high school and a graduate civil engineer of the Ranssler Polytechnic school of Troy, N. Y. He was a member of the Charles street Norwegian Lutheran church and was highly respected on the north side, where he resided up to a year and a half ago. He leaves besides his mother, two brothers, Rolf and Paul, and two sisters, Ruth and Mildred.

S.S.S. NATURE'S TONIC

The very great majority of persons need a tonic in the Spring or early Summer. The system undergoes a change at this season and the entire physical machinery is disturbed. The general bodily weakness, a tired, worn-out feeling, fickle appetite, poor digestion, a half sick feeling and a general run-down condition of the system, show that the blood is weak or anaemic, and a blood purifying tonic is needed to build up the deranged system and enrich the blood. The use of S. S. S. at this time may save you from a long spell of sickness, and it will certainly prepare you for the long, hot Summer. Many people have put off using a tonic until the system became so weakened and depleted it could not successfully throw off disease germs, and have paid for the neglect with a spell of fever, malaria or some other debilitating sickness. S. S. S. is Nature's ideal tonic. It is a composition of the extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks which science and experience have proven are best fitted for a tonic to the human system. It contains no minerals of any kind and is therefore perfectly safe for persons of any age. S. S. S. tones up the stomach and digestive tract, aids the system of that tired, worn-out feeling, and imparts vigor and strength to every part of the body. It purifies and enriches the blood, stimulates the secreting and excreting members to better action, quiets the overstrained nerves, and makes one feel better in every way.

HOT-WEATHER LAXATIVE FREE

At no other time of the year is the tendency to constipation greater than during the summer months, and this is especially the time that it is most important to keep the bowels open. The heat taints food, there are germs in the water, and even fruit has its dangers. For a dozen and one reasons the bowels should be kept open—you should have at least one good passage a day, and in the case of children and young people, two a day is better. The best way to obtain such relief, and to thoroughly regulate the stomach, liver and bowels, is by the use of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN.

WELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN, the great laxative tonic. It is not a temporary relief like salts and purgative waters, and it does not gripe, take tablets and pills. It is so pleasant to take, and so gentle in action, that children prefer it to any other laxative. It is the children's ideal remedy for their stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Use it for constipation, indigestion, sick headache, biliousness, loss of appetite and sleep, drowsiness after eating, diarrhoea, "Summer Complaint," gas or wind on the stomach, etc. A bottle can be obtained at any druggist at 50 cents or $1.00. Thousands of families keep it regularly in the house because a laxative may be needed at any moment, and those who once use DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN always prefer it thereafter.

Those who have never yet used DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN will find it the best medicine for the stomach, liver and bowels. It is a pleasant and effective remedy for all the ailments mentioned above. It is a very important addition to your medicine chest. Write a letter to Dr. Caldwell explaining how the person suffering from these ailments has been afflicted, and he will give you a free bottle of the medicine. The address is: DR. W. B.
